The Mustard Seed has been planted to support Christian organizations that assist with the healing and/or prevention of childhood sexual abuse, and to be a gateway for survivors to access resources and to facilitate healing.

Survivors healing is funded by people like you

The Mustard Seed
Thrift on Mission

We support the broken hearted

childhood sexual abuse
breaks hearts

We care so much for those who are broken hearted that we are doing something about it.

We connect

survivors of childhood sexual abuse to the resources needed for healing.

We work

through our thrift stores to generate the funding necessary to make a difference in this community.

We identify under-served populations and tirelessly work to identify resources for their healing.

We fund organizations that provide direct services for survivors of childhood sexual abuse.

We fund counseling

services for survivors, through a network of specialized clinicians.

We talk boldly

about childhood sexual abuse and bring the darkness to the healing light of Christ.

Help us pick up the pieces by:

Lifting up prayers

for our ministry and those we serve.

Contributing

All donated money goes directly to counseling and recovery services for survivors.

Donating

gently used items that make it all possible!

Shopping

our stores. This is where the funding is raised to get healing to survivors.

Volunteering

your time and talents, because we need you!
